A Fish Tale Leo Yerxa
1995-01-01 In this beautiful book for juveniles, Leo Yerxa's color-drenched watercolors & shimmering stenciled pastels vividly evoke the magical underwater garden. The offbeat parable he tells is engaging & humorous. When you're a young fish among many, & a dart-school failure, life in the underwater garden grows tiresome. And what of these stories about the surface world, told by the old fuddie-duddies? Stories of hooks, cooks & fishing rods, rivers of gold, & humans who can swallow you whole -- are they true? When our hero is enticed to the surface to investigate by the ne'er-do-well Jack, he quickly learns that these stories are all too true & even finds the answer to his perennial question: Why am I a small fry?Ó

LaBlance Fish Tales Two

Peter LaBlance 2023-04-28
These tales are just a small window into the lives of commercial fishermen on the Great Lakes. Their Dad and Mom taught them the value of good, hard work, and expected everyone to work on the fish tugs. Their lives were shaped by moving around to "follow the fish" from Lake Michigan to Lake Huron and Lake Superior. LaBlance's "Fish Tales Two" is a collection of fishing stories with an element of truth in each -- you just have to find it. The author has also included stories from his dad, old newspaper clippings, and his firsthand perspective. Fish tales in this book also include stories from his brothers Mike, Robert, Jim, Albert, his sister Catherine, and his wife Deborah, and his cousin James Muscott.

Fish Tales for Kids Norman Pitman 2012-05-08 Eight short stories about fish are selected from several books of fairy tales by Andrew Lang and others. These tales are designed to be fascinating reading for young children. The tales are: (1) The Talking Fish, (2) The Girl-Fish, (3) A Fish Story, (4) How a Fish Swam in the Air and a Hare in the Water, (5) The Golden-Headed Fish, (6) The Jelly-Fish Takes a Journey, (7) The King of the Fishes, and (8) Punky Dunk and the Gold Fish. Children have enjoyed reading these fairy tales for years and it is good to find them in one single volume.

and lifelong bachelor, Father Tim, has married his talented and vivacious neighbor, Cynthia. Now, of course, they must face love's challenges: new sleeping arrangements for Father Tim's sofa-sized dog, Cynthia's urge to decorate the rectory Italian-villa-style, and the growing pains of the thrown-away boy who's become like a son to the rector. Add a life-changing camping trip, the arrival of the town's first policewoman, and a new computer that requires the patience of a saint, and you know you're in for another engrossing visit to Mitford—the little town that readers everywhere love to call home.

INTERNATIONAL

BESTSELLER A powerful and persuasive discussion about economics, freedom, and the relationship between the two, from today's brightest economist. In this classic discussion, Milton and Rose Friedman explain how our freedom has been eroded and our affluence undermined through the explosion of laws, regulations, agencies, and spending in Washington. This important analysis reveals what has gone wrong in America in the past and what is necessary for our economic health to flourish.

Building a Timeless House in an Instant Age Brent Hull 2014-08-01 The author of Traditional American Rooms examines the evolution of home construction, making a case against mass-produced homes.

Foreword Reviews Book of the Year Finalist for architectural non-fiction—challenges us to consider the impact our decisions will have when building a house. What do our homes say about us? What stories are they telling? Are they declarations of integrity, beauty, and heritage? Or do they suggest we have lost our sense of value, craft, and harmony? Nationally recognized as an authority on historic design, architecturally correct moldings, and millwork, Hull is uniquely qualified to speak to the craft of building and art of design. In an age of “instant” homes, how do we build something timeless that weaves a tale of character, values, history, and heart? The decisions we make for our homes are not inconsequential. What we build defines us. In fact, the contrast between the way we build today and how structures used to be built has become only more vivid. What happened to craft? What happened to the art of building? Our values and what we believe about life have changed as well. We have come to see houses as a tradable commodity. We live in a time that is obsessed with “what’s next?” We need to be careful of fooling ourselves into thinking that a bottom-line mentality is the best way to approach building a home. Now is the time to examine ourselves, our motives, and our hearts. Praise for Building a Timeless House in an Instant Age “Part call to action, part exploration of

Reel Chance Fish Tales

Captain Rick Percy 2017-12-14

Capt. Rick, Thank you so much for the great red fishing trip today. Me and my boys had a fantastic day. I truly appreciate the time and attention you gave my boys (Grayson 13 and Carson 10) while fishing today. You are an excellent captain and good teacher which is a rare combo. As you could probably tell today, fishing is a very important part of my family and we could not have asked for a better day fishing or a better guide to show us the finer points of fishing the low country. The boys are already talking about "the May Multi-species Wreck trip." We will start saving now. Had a blast! Attached are some good pics, use what you like. Please stay in touch.
