Book of Mormon Seminary Home-Study Guide The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints 2013-10-22 "The home-study seminary program is designed to help you strengthen your understanding of the gospel of Jesus Christ and apply its teachings in your daily life through a study of the scriptures. For your study this school year, you will first complete reading assignments from the scripture text for this course—the Book of Mormon—and then you will complete the individual lessons. Once a week you will meet with a seminary teacher to submit your work and participate in a weekly lesson. Seminary is a daily religious education program. Prayerfully studying your scriptures should be a daily practice. You will need to work on your seminary assignments each school day, even though you will not attend a seminary class each day. There are 32 units to be completed during the course. The reading chart on page viii shows what you should study for each unit. Your teacher will help you understand when each unit is due. The lessons in this study guide should each take about 30 minutes to complete, in addition to your daily scripture study. You should have two scripture study journals (or two notebooks), separate from your personal journal, in which you will write the assignments from the study guide activities. Each week that you meet with your teacher, you should turn in the scripture study journal containing the completed assignments from the study guide activities you completed for that week. Your teacher will read and respond to the assignments and return that scripture study journal to you the following week. You could also write your responses on paper in a loose-leaf binder and turn in the pages you did that week. Then, when your teacher returns the pages, you could put them back into the notebook."

A General Introduction to the Study of Holy Scripture A. E. Breen D. D. We live in an age of great activity. It is also an age wherein material progress and the love of worldly pleasure tend to enfeeble man's hold on the supernatural world. It is most evident that there is a general movement away from the spiritual world. In non-Catholic thought the idea of a reduced Christianity is dominant. A mere natural religion recommends itself to many. "The natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him; and he cannot know them because they are spiritually examined." [1 Cor. 2:14.] Instead of accepting religion as a mysterious message from Heaven, men make a religion that is not religious. A religion is sought that will not interfere with man's worldly tastes and pleasures. Human reason is made the judge of all the works of God. Aeterna Press

How to Study and Teach the Bible Julius R. Scruggs 2015-11-13 In 1982, John Naisbitt's Megatrends: Ten New Directions Transforming Our Lives brought to our attention the harsh reality that a new and strange world was crashing down around us. One of the ways in which he suggested that the world would change was that we would move "from institutional help to self-help." By this, he meant that American society would move from being a culture dependent on institutions such as schools, hospitals, and the like, to being a people more centered on themselves individually. Thus, the emergence of "self-service" counters in the marketplace has become pervasive. In this light, Bible study has come to be a matter for the "self" as much as anything else. Pastors simply cannot expect to be the only ones who "know the Bible." They cannot assume that members of the church will concede to biblical illiteracy. Lay people want to know the Bible, just as the clergy and pastor know it. There is an insistence on the part of the average church member to become intimately familiar with the Word of God. Julius Richard Scruggs's How to Study & Teach the Bible is an ideal manual that introduces students of the Bible to its intricacies--from the youngest neophyte to the most skilled veteran church member--both clergy and laity alike. He insists that Bible study should become an integral part of the life of every church. He then plunges into a cursory, yet careful, exploration of what the Bible is and how one can become a more effective teacher, preacher, and evangelist. This book is indeed a wise and worthy investment for everyone who desires to have a working knowledge of the Bible and takes the time to work through these pages. Young is the Senior Pastor of BridgeWay Church in Denver, CO. He is also an adjunct professor at Denver Seminary, the Global Awakening Theological Seminary, and the Bible instructor at the Colorado School of Kingdom Ministry. He has taught through the Bible chapter by chapter for over 20 years. Peter is a gifted visionary leader, pastor, revelatory teacher, and apostolic leader.

He has strong gifts in both the Word and Spirit traditions, enabling him to walk in both realms with ease. He practices a signs and wonders ministry and encourages the manifest Presence of God and the Kingdom realities in all aspects of life. His passion is seeing people released into their full potential through understanding their identity in Christ and the power of the Holy Spirit. Course Description: Dr. Young approaches his Bible survey classes from a revelatory, rather than an informational perspective. Students glean solid insights from their own exegetical study of God's Word combined, with class lecture, Q&R, and class discussion. Key to Peter's instruction approach is stewarding the presence of God's Spirit who reveals key insights which are immediately applied to student's lives. Deep historical and big picture background is typically shared in each class session. As in all the courses Peter teaches, the supernatural aspects of God's interaction with man and the prophetic and revelatory nature of the Scriptures as they apply to Christ and believers today are deeply explored. You will find his perspective both life-changing and unique among Bible survey and Bible teaching courses taught at seminaries or Bible colleges. Students take notes as they study the text independently before they are revised in class in the Student Notetaking manual or an electronic version of it if they are enrolled in the Colorado School of Kingdom Ministry. The exegetical notes from the instructor are regularly referred to in his class teachings. Slide presentations, online word studies, and the whiteboard diagrams that Peter uses during class teaching and discussion. These visual aides are only available on the video version of the teaching, which we recommend over the audio teaching for this reason. Should the student wish, these Bible classes can be taken live on a remote basis at the same time as they are taught at the Colorado School of Ministry. Further, if a church or ministry school wishes to utilize these teachings at a remote site anywhere in the world, this can be arranged on a per-student licensing fee. International pricing differs by country. Register for these courses or contact the Colorado School of Kingdom ministry for further information at www.cskm.us. Testimonies, suggestions, and insights you wish to share with Dr. Young can be sent to admin@cskm.us.

As the subtitle indicates, the author has carefully surveyed the scriptures to identify and examine the places God has chosen to dwell (live or reside) on the earth throughout history. He first takes the reader on an imaginary biblical journey as an eyewitness to Gods dwelling places. And then he carefully documents what the Bible says about those dwelling places. From Genesis to Revelation, the book is an examination of Gods residences from creation to the new heavens and the new earth.
