The First International Shoebox Sculpture

Exhibition 1982 Creating sculptures on a small scale , producing works that maintain integrity and a control of sculptural elements is a formidable and interesting challenge to artists around the world. This exhibition comprised of sculptures small enough to fit in a shoebox, shows how artists of many nations are currently addressing the challenge of scale. The exhibits are in a wide range of sculptural styles.

2017-11-08 Excerpt from The Worcester Art Museum: Report of the Trustees, Officers, and List of Sustaining Members 1911 During the year two charter members of the Corporation have been removed by death. One, Charles H. Davis, Esq., next to the largest giver to the popular subscription made at the beginning, served as Trustee for the first two years, was warmly interested in the Museum and left to it, by will, a valuable picture. The other, the Right Rev. Alexander H. Vinton, D. D., Bishop of Western Massachusetts, was also an intelligent, interested and helpful member Of the Corporation, especially during the early period Of the Museum. The Trustees congratulate the Corporation that the litigation which, in various forms, has been carried on against the Corporation ever since the will of Mr. Salisbury was opened, has been terminated by a decision in favor of the Museum made yesterday by the United States Supreme Court at Washington. In various respects the Museum has made a marked advance during the year. Details of this are given in the reports of the Director and of the Principal of the School which are now, for the first time, submitted as a part of this report, and to which your careful attention is invited.
